Learn Different. Make a Difference.

Sunday, June 22nd 2014, at 18:00
H4 Hall, Hangar Building
IDC Campus, Kanfei Nesharim St. Herzliya

Jerry Engel, an experienced entrepreneur, venture capitalist, and for the last 20 years, the leader of the entrepreneurship program at U.C. Berkeley’s Haas School of Business, will share with us the latest developments and trends in entrepreneurship in the U.S. and around the world. This broadranging conversation will include such topics as current financing trends for startups in the US, including the new role of Angels, crowd-sourcing, Angel’s List, the impact of Apps and the Cloud, the emerging requirement for traction before funding and trends in the VC industry. Jerry will also discuss Lean Entrepreneurship and the "Lean LaunchPad" course, and how this approach is related to the financing trends.

For registration click here!