Global Game Jam 2015

The Global Game Jam (GGJ) is a Game Development hackathon, taking place around the world simultaneously.

The event is taking place in collaboration with GameIS, The Israeli Computer Games Association and IEC (the IDC Entrepreneurship club) at IDC Herzliya.

The weekend stirs a global creative buzz in games, while at the same time exploring the process of development, be it programming, iterative design, narrative exploration or artistic expression. It is all condensed into a 36 hour development cycle. The GGJ encourages people with all kinds of backgrounds to participate and contribute to this global spread of game development and creativity.
