ORIENTATION WEEK

The academic year will begin with Orientation Week on Sunday, October 30, 2016.

One of the innovative and important services that IDC Herzliya provides to its students is a week-long orientation for first-year students. Orientation Week is designed to make first year students’ entry into the academic environment as smooth as possible.

Orientation week is vital preparation for succeeding at IDC Herzliya. Participation is mandatory.

Each incoming student is assigned a chonech, a peer counselor (2nd or 3rd year Israeli student) who is tasked with helping new students acculturate to IDC and to Herzliya. Your peer counselor will accompany you from your arrival to campus throughout your first year at IDC. Your counselor will contact you shortly before your arrival to campus (either for mechina or orientation week).

Orientation week includes five full days of orientation to IDC, your peers and your new home in Herzliya. In order to be prepared to begin studies and have the tools to access our online and social communities, your presence is mandatory. The week will include:

- Academic orientation: meet the dean of your school, consult with your academic advisor regarding class assignment and selection, and participate in introductory lectures and conversations.
- Technical Orientation: receive your student ID card, learn how to access your IDC email and use the MyIDC online student portal (essential for class registration, email, grade access, and other key functions).
- Social Orientation: sign up for IDC extracurricular activities (clubs, sports, societies, etc.), engage with the local community via volunteering opportunities, meet and bond with your peers as we engage in structured discussions and travel to the desert for an overnight excursion including hikes, team building, and lots of fun.

Learning Hebrew is essential for your adjustment in Israel. IDC offers ulpan (Hebrew language studies during the academic year) at four different levels so you may improve your Hebrew AND get credit for it! Ulpan is a year long general elective course worth two credits.

To join the ulpan you will need to take a Hebrew ulpan placement test after which you will be divided into classes based on your test results. Classes are designed to help students feel comfortable using Hebrew.

The placement test will take place during Orientation Week.

Following the test, you will receive your class level via e-mail and you will be able to register for the ulpan during the first two weeks of the academic year.

INTENSIVE ACADEMIC SUMMER HEBREW ULPAN

A six-week intensive summer ulpan is offered in July and August. This is an academic ulpan and participants who attend the entire six weeks will be awarded a certificate of completion from the Ministry of Education*. lgoldstein@idc.ac.il or mchoresh@idc.ac.il

Raphael Recanati International School students have the option of residing in IDC housing if their parents do not live in Israel. These are privately owned apartments rented by IDC from private owners and sublet to students in groups of three to six. The apartments are located in residential neighborhoods throughout the city of Herzliya. All apartments are furnished to meet students’ basic needs and include:

IDC is obliged to supply these items only; any other items required must be supplied by the student.

The cost of the sublease is $650* U.S. per month, from the day you sign the contract until July 31, 2017. The rental fee covers rent, house committee fee, municipal taxes and maintenance charges. Students are responsible for paying utility bills (electricity, gas, water, telephone, etc) and arranging and paying for their own internet connections.

Please note that the reservation of a room can only be secured by payment of the housing security deposit of US $1,200 and filling in and returning the “Housing Questionnaire” included in the forms which you received by e-mail together with this booklet. Please note that the $1,200 APARTMENT SECURITY DEPOSIT is a separate payment from the $1,000 TUITION DOWN PAYMENT.

There are a very limited number of rooms with a private bathroom available for an additional $50/month. They will be allocated according to the date of payment of the $1,200 housing deposit.
Important notes:

🏠 We cannot guarantee an apartment for those who do not pay the $1,200 deposit by June 15, 2016 or within ten days of receiving your acceptance letter.

🏠 There is no option to see the apartments before signing the contract.

🏠 The housing project is designated only for students who arrive from abroad and whose immediate family does not live in Israel.

🏠 Signing the contract will require you to pay rent for the duration of the contract, even if you vacate the apartment before the end of the contract.

🏠 Cancelation of IDC housing after September 30 will result in the forfeiture of the $1,200 deposit.

You must coordinate your arrival with Housing Coordinators Linda Goldstein and Mali Choresh in advance by email at:

Fall Semester Conclusion, Exam Schedule and Potential for Time Off

Exams begin immediately following the conclusion of fall semester. In accordance with traditional Israeli higher education models, IDC offers students the opportunity to take a first sitting of exams (“moed aleph”) generally during the first three weeks between semesters. Students will receive their moed aleph exam schedule at the beginning of the semester. If a student fails his/her moed aleph exam, is not happy with his/her grade or had to miss the exam due to unforeseen circumstances, he/she is entitled to sit for a second exam (“moed bet”). These second exams are scheduled, traditionally, immediately following the moed aleph exams. Therefore each student has a highly individual schedule, very often with no vacation whatsoever between fall and spring semester dependent on a) moed aleph schedule, assigned during the first week of the semester and b) the student's desire to be present for moed bet/retakes. If you are certain that you will not need a retake, you can book your return ticket date upon receipt of your moed aleph exam schedule (following your final exam time). If you are booking a ticket to Israel and are concerned about choosing a return ticket date: we strongly urge you to purchase a “flexible fare” ticket that allows you to change your return date with no penalty fee. This will allow you to alter your date according to your exam schedule and need (or lack thereof) to sit for moed bet exams. While this class ticket is more expensive than a ticket with inflexible dates, it is significantly less expensive than altering the return date on an inflexible fare ticket if the need arises.

Spring Semester Conclusion, Exam Schedule and Extended Break

Exams begin immediately following the conclusion of spring semester. In accordance with traditional Israeli higher education models, IDC offers students the opportunity to take a first sitting of exams (“moed aleph”) generally during the first three weeks following the conclusion of spring semester. Students will receive their moed aleph exam schedule at the beginning of the semester. As described above, following moed aleph exams students are entitled to sit for moed bet exams. Spring semester moed bet exams are generally scheduled through August. When a student has concluded his/her exams (based on a highly personal schedule and desire to take moed bet exams), he/she is on semester break until mid-October when the next school year begins.
